

Ginko Modular Fest 2017

The annual Dutch modular meet in The Hague!

The Ginko Modular Fest will take place from the 9th until the 11th of June in De Besturing in The Hague. What started last year as the opening of the new studio of Ginko Synthese, has grown into a full fledged three day event filled to the brim with modular synthesizers.

The festival will largely be hosted in De Besturing, a nice large and raw looking industrial building that is an excellent backdrop for showcasing the DIY synth scene. Next door to De Besturing is brewery De Kompaan, where more synth manufacturers will be presenting the merchandise.

More than 30 makers will be represented at Ginko Modular Fest 2017, from Holland as well as from abroad. Drink a beer and have a chat with makers about their latest creations or get the newest modules straight from the source.

One can also gain knowledge (not wisdom) during tech-talks, solder up synths in workshops and of course shake a leg during the performances that will go on deep into the night.

The ever growing line-up can be found at www.ginkomodularfest.com

When? Friday 9th till Sunday 11th June

Where? De Besturing

Entrance: free on Friday and Sunday, Saturday 15 euro at the door

More information: www.ginkomodularfest.com

<https://www.facebook.com/events/1036437526483619/>

Noot voor de redactie:

For more information and/or images you can contact with Tamara van Suylekom, info@trademarkdesign.nl